

Southern California Development Forum Presents...

Tuesday, November 10, 2015 - 7:00am-9:00am

So you want to build a stadium?

A new NFL stadium in the Los Angeles Region is almost a done deal. Its location, though undecided, will transform the area around it. Please join us for a discussion of the ancillary development around sports facilities. Our panelists will discuss their thoughts on the urban planning entailed with these types of projects, what to expect, what works and what doesn't.
